Dear Customer

Welcome to the 2018 catalogue; this our 44th year, has been one of innovation, diversification and consolidation.

Innovation is evident in the collections introduced this year.

The ozone machine, the cyclonic vacuum cleaner and the hot-air carpet blower are dynamic products, invented to increase back-of-house efficiencies.

Diversification has led to an expanded range of crockery and cutlery, as well as a soft and fluffy collection of pool towels and mattress protectors.

Following last year's consolidation of our new warehouse near Sydney airport, processes and logistics have come to the fore.

In July we implemented .wms – a cloud-based Warehouse Management System which utilises hand-held scanner technology, generates customer and carrier-compliant labels and electronically manifests freight. As well, there was a major upgrade to SAP software and, if that weren't enough, we built a photographic studio on the premises.

Team-wise, a dedicated Quality Control Manager has come on board. Nationally, we've broadened out to service wider regional areas and across the ditch, we welcome our newest branch office in New Zealand.

Further from home has seen us attend multiple international trade fairs in Shanghai, Dubai, Berlin and Guangzhou, in addition to the regular round of China fairs our Hong Kong sourcing office attends.

The Weatherdon Project, which we founded with the International College of Management in Sydney, continues to support the growth of the Australasian hospitality sector.

As the preferred suppliers to thousands of hotels, and numerous hospitality and office suppliers in Australia and New Zealand, we are readily able to source top designers and manufacturers throughout Asia, underpinned by our attention to detail, commitment to quality, and superior customer service.

Robert Weatherdon, Managing Director, receiving supplier award from Reward Hospitality March 2018
